Grant Project Description

The Northwestern Regional Adult Detention Center's Offender Reentry Transitional Program (ORTP) uses a validated Risk/Needs assessment to identify medium to high-risk offenders in need of pre-release and re-entry services. The program aims to enhance public safety, reduce recidivism, and facilitate the successful reentry of offenders from Frederick, Clarke, and Fauquier counties, and the City of Winchester. To increase the likelihood of successful outcomes, evidence-based treatment modalities, education, vocational services, and targeted case management are utilized.

Grant Project Description

OAR's Intensive Reentry Program addresses the issue of recidivism with a special emphasis on that population which has been assessed as medium to high risk for re-engaging with the criminal justice system. The program utilizes evidence-based practices and reflects over 20 years of research focused on the risk factors that contribute to recidivism. It includes pre-release services such as case management, reentry readiness programming, and psychotherapy as well as post-release support for individuals coming home from jail or prison to Arlington County and the cities of Alexandria and Falls Church.
