The person who takes the fingerprints must request some type of photo identification card as verifying an individual’s identity. DCJS recommends that they only accept current, valid, and unexpired picture identification documents. As a primary form of picture identification, you may present a state-issued driver’s license. If you do not have a driver’s license, a state identification card may be presented if the state’s identification card standards are the same as for the driver’s license. However, in the absence of the new driver’s license, you will need to provide one or more secondary documents from the List of Acceptable Documents that is used to Verify United States Citizenship or Legal Presence.

Once your identification has been verified, complete the top portion of the card.
