School Summary Feedback Report

School: Stonewall Elementary

Introduction

Thank you for participating in the 2023 Virginia School Survey, which included measures of school climate and working conditions. The Virginia Department of Criminal Justice Services (DCJS) and the Virginia Department of Education (VDOE), in collaboration with the University of Virginia and Virginia Tech, administered this survey to provide school and division leaders a tool to monitor and ensure all students and staff have access to a healthy and positive environment in which to learn, work, interact, and grow.

The survey has a basic structure in which the questions are mapped onto measures. For example, all three groups (Students, Classroom Instructors, Staff) answered four questions about relationships between students and adults in the school (i.e., are they respectful, caring, attentive, and supportive). Together, they make up the measure of “Relationships Between Students and Adults.” There is a brief descriptor of what that scale represents in each table. This School Summary Feedback Report provides information on the scores from your school for each survey measure. A measure’s score is the simple average response to all the questions mapped to the measure across respondents. This report also presents the responses to select individual questions, which are not part of a broader measure, but may be informative for understanding the perspective of students, classroom instructors, and staff in your school. If a section includes tables that are blank, that is because there were not enough respondents of that type (students, teachers, or staff) to adequately protect the identity of the participants. The report also provides the average of individual scores from respondents across your school’s division, region, and the Commonwealth.

Ways to use this report

1. Share this report with staff, students, and parents. Encourage a common commitment to a positive school climate and supportive working conditions.
2. Identify school improvement goals, such as increasing student engagement and positive behavior and strengthening professional growth opportunities for classroom instructors and staff.
3. Document needs for school safety and support programs.
4. Evaluate school improvement efforts since the previous survey.

Resources for School Improvement

Below you can find some resources for school improvement. Please note that these are outside organizations and not necessarily affiliated with DCJS or VDOE. This list is not an exhaustive list. You may find additional resources online.

School Climate and Discipline

- Handle With Care Virginia is a communication system between law enforcement and schools when a child is on a scene with first responders. This program enables schools to be proactive in preparing trauma informed support. The website also contains general mental health and Trauma Informed resources.

- The Virginia Tiered Systems of Supports (VTSS) is a data-driven decision making framework for establishing the academic, behavioral and social-emotional supports needed for a school to be an effective learning environment for all students.
- The Positive Behavioral Interventions and Support (PBIS) technical assistance center is a federal resource for multi-tiered social, emotional, and behavioral support of students.

School Demographics

This report is based on responses from 21 Classroom Instructors (inclusive of teachers and teacher's aides) in your school. The student and staff sections of this report are suppressed due to a participation rate below what is required to ensure responses are not identifiable. State results are based on 183,837 students in 599 schools with 6-8th graders, 49,350 Classroom Instructors in 1,527 Virginia public schools, and 17,039 Staff in 1,519 Virginia public schools. For more information, see the Virginia Department of Criminal Justice Services website or the Virginia Department of Education website.

Global Climate

In addition to the measures that assess a concept based on numerous questions, the Virginia School Survey presented one question to allow respondents to speak directly to their school's climate and/or working conditions. In addition, lasting impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic require additional attention to how students, classroom instructors, and staff are supported. The information below can be used to understand the impact of the pandemic on climate and working conditions and to continue to monitor progress towards recovery.

Classroom Instructors

The following items were scored from "Strongly disagree" (1) to "Strongly agree" (6).
