Citizens Against Family Violence (CAFV) is requesting second year funding to address violent behavior by providing evidence based programming to 125 middle school aged youth. CAFV will implement the Safe Dates and PATHS (Promoting Alternative Thinking Strategies program) curriculum at local Boys and Girls Club, an after school mentoring program, and summer enrichment programs throughout the service area. 100 middle school aged students will participate in the Safe Dates, a program designed to stop or prevent dating violence and victimization, including psychological, physical and sexual abuse that may occur between youth involved in dating relationships. CAFV will also initiate the evidenced based program "Coaching Boys Into Men" (CBIM).

Project Performance to Date (if Continuation)

The Safe Dates program was presented to 123 middle school students. Sixty percent of participants were male and 75 percent of the participants were minority. Based on post-test scores, eighty percent of students were more likely to ask someone for help on how to handle a situation, effectively communicate their feelings and were less likely to engage in violent behavior. Coaching Boys into Men has met some challenges in the implementation, although 15 volunteer coaches in the recreational league were trained in the CBIM curriculum the coaches did not follow through with implementing the program. CBIM has been introduced to another set of coaches who have committed to implementing the program throughout the 2016 school year. These coaches also coach a variety of sports which should broaden the number of participants.

Grant Project Description

The Western Tidewater Community Services Board (WTCSB) is requesting 2nd year funding to implement the Strong African American Families (SAAF) Curriculum in the City of Franklin and Southampton County. Strong African American Families is an Evidence Based seven-week alcohol, drug use and early sexual activity reduction program, which focuses on rural African American youths (ages 10-14). The program works to strengthen the attachment between parent and child to reduce the likelihood of youth involvement in various problem behaviors, particularly risky sexual activity and substance abuse. It also works to promote the youths' ability to focus on goals for the future, resist involvement in risky behaviors, maintain negative images of risk behaviors and peers who engage in them, and accept parental influence. The (WTCSB) Western Tidewater along with its partners plans to deliver programming in 14 seven-week cycles to groups of approximately 10-12 families of middle school aged youth each cycle.

Project Performance to Date (if Continuation)

The Western Tidewater Community Service Board (WTCSB) recruited and trained staff in the Strong African American Families (SAAF) curriculum within the established time frames guidelines established by WTCSB. The seven week (SAAF) curriculum is being delivered to middle school aged children and their families who reside in the City of Franklin and the County of Southampton. Referrals are made by community partners, based on demonstrated risk factors, the program also accepts self-referrals. WTCSB has secured six community based sites to conduct the program. Results of pre and posttests from parents showed marked improvement in listening to their children, ability to approach situation in a calm manner and consistence in setting limits. Child care is provided during groups and structured activities and transportation has been provided to eight families. WTCSB has delivered four cycles to date. There are currently four cycles ongoing or in the planning stages in Franklin, and two in Southampton County. WTCSB has scheduled additional cycles which will meet the targeted goal of fourteen. Recruiting families has been more difficult than expected in Southampton County due the rural geography. In addition, the WTCSB has decided that groups required two facilitators due to literacy issues and to ensure that participants were able to comprehend and participate.
