Jenifer McShane's Emmy Award-Winning HBO documentary ERNIE & JOE: CRISIS COPS follows Ernie Stevens and Joe Smarro, two police officers in San Antonio Police Department's Mental Health Unit, as they divert people away from jail and into mental health treatment, humanely and non-violently - one 911 call at a time.

Use the 25 or 95-minute versions of the film through May 2022:

- In CIT trainings
- Within your training academy
- As a mental health crisis response skill-building and/or officer wellness event for agency personnel
- With your larger community, which could include your local National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI) chapter and/or other local behavioral health organizations
