I. Call to Order

Vice-Chair Krystyn Reid called the meeting of the Criminal Justice Services Board (CJSB) to order at 11:05 a.m. A quorum of the Board was present, and the meeting was an ALL-VIRTUAL meeting.

II. Approval of Minutes

Mr. Bradley Marshall made the motion, seconded by Mr. Will Wittenbrook, to accept the minutes of the October 9, 2025, meeting of the CJSB. The motion passed unanimously.

III. Director's Report

DCJS Director, Jackson Miller, introduced new Board member, Sheriff Michael Miller of Bedford County who will be on the Board as the representative of police fraternal organizations taking Sheriff Vaughan's place on the Board as he is retiring at the end of the year.

Director Miller then gave updates from the agency:

Division of Programs and Services

- Regarding the grant programs and grant award recommendations being presented to the CJSB for approval, it was noted that there is a detailed review process. DCJS staff ensure that the applicant's adherence to the requirements of the grant program are met and there is a reasonable budget. They also ensure that a project can be implemented based on the information provided. For existing projects recommended for continuation funds or supplemental funds, it is also considered whether the recipient is in good standing with their current award.
- DCJS' Office of Safer Communities is hosting a Statewide Community of Practice Conference in Virginia Beach. This conference will bring local government agencies, non-profit organizations, and law enforcement agencies from across the Commonwealth together for collaborative and informative sessions focused on strengthening understanding and preventing community violence.

Division of Public Safety Training and Virginia Center for School and Campus Safety (PST-VCSCS)

- Ms. Lindsay Burton was selected as the new Division Director for the PST-VCSCS, to replace Ms. Donna Michaelis who is retiring January 1, 2025. Ms. Burton's first day in this new role as Division Director was Monday, October 27, 2025. She formerly served at the federal level as Associate Director for School Safety at the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency DHS-CISA.
- The Virginia Center for School Safety was established in Virginia Code in 2000 after the Columbine tragedy. Ms. Donna Michaelis was instrumental in starting up the Center and growing it from one employee to what is currently 32 employees. The Center is now called the Virginia Center for School and Campus Safety and serves as a national leader in school safety. Under Ms. Michaelis' leadership, the Center achieved many firsts and is routinely called upon by other state safety centers for guidance and advice. Ms. Michaelis has been an outstanding servant leader during her 25-year tenure at DCJS. Ms. Michaelis was thanked for her many years of service to the Commonwealth.
- Office of Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS Office) School Violence Prevention Program (SVPP).

The PST-VCSCS Division was recently awarded the SVPP grant from the federal Department of Justice. Funding under this award program will be used by DCJS' Critical Incident Preparedness and Response (CIPR) team to implement evidence-based training that prepares schools to respond to critical incidents. This project will deliver a comprehensive, multi-level training program designed to enhance responses to active attacks and violent incidents in school environments. Key activities will include eight basic Active Shooter Incident Management (ASIM) training sessions designed to build foundational skills and four advanced ASIM training exercises, reaching over 880 school safety and law enforcement professionals. This initiative directly supports the grant program's goal to implement evidence-based safety programs that focus on coordination with local law enforcement, enhancing both prevention and response capabilities in schools.

- The Louisiana Governor's Office of Homeland Security recently visited DCJS as they are in the process of establishing a Center for School Safety in their state. The DCJS Virginia Center for School and Campus Safety is recognized as a national leader in school and campus safety programming and has been visited by over a dozen other states interested in replicating the Center's success. The Louisiana Governor's office spent two days with Center staff listening to presentations and strategizing methods to establish their Center based on the Virginia model.

Division of Licensure and Regulatory Services

- An update was given on Lotus, the Division of Licensure and Regulatory Services' credential management system. DCJS is predicting that the division will approve close to 38,000 private security and related applications in 2025; more applications than it has approved in any of the previous three years. With Lotus' major issues addressed, division staff have been working with DCJS IT, industry partners and vendors to improve processes, including improvements that will reduce user errors.
- The division has begun holding town hall meetings and information sessions with constituents and industry representatives to foster bi-directional communication, using feedback from stakeholders to determine what improvements should be prioritized.
