

VOCA Victims Services Grant Program Project Resources

Housing

- Safe Housing Partnerships webpage has resources for current statistics, research and best practices (safehousingpartnerships.org).
- The Domestic Violence Housing First website through the Washington State Coalition Against Domestic Violence has a toolkit for organizations considering a flexible-funding type housing program. Resources include information, checklists and sample policies and procedures for each step of the planning process (wscadv.org/projects/domestic-violence-housing-first/toolkit/).
- The District Alliance for Safe Housing (DASH) website has complete descriptions of their transitional housing and flexible funding programs. It also has information for advocates (www.dashdc.org).
- DC Safe is a program listed by the Office for Victims of Crime as an innovative program for crisis housing (www.dcsafe.org).
- The DOVES program in Arizona offers transitional housing and wrap around services for older adult survivors of domestic violence (<https://www.aaaphx.org/program-services/doves-program/>).

Telenursing

- The National Telenursing Center has information regarding providing trauma-informed sexual assault care through telemedicine. Their website has information regarding their pilot sites as well as information about their model (<https://www.mass.gov/info-details/about-the-national-telenursing-center>).
- The Office for Victims of Crime has a pre-recorded webinar titled “Effective Telenursing Response to Sexual Assault” on their website (<https://www.ovcttac.gov/views/TrainingMaterials/dspWebinars.cfm>)
- End Violence Against Women International has a pre-recorded webinar titled “Using Telehealth to Increase the Quality of Forensic-Medical Evidence Collection and Deliver Trauma-Informed Care” on their website (<http://www.evawintl.org/WebinarArchive.aspx>).

FNE/SANE Programs

- The Office for Victims of Crime offers a SANE Program Development and Operation Guide (<https://www.ovcttac.gov/saneguide/introduction>).
